Aditya-L1 takes off for the Sun

Spacecraft to cover over 1.5 million kms in 4 months to reach a unique parking spot in space to study the sun

Bengaluru, Sept. 2 (Agencies)- Nine days after India's successful moon landing with Chandrayaan-3, India's maiden space-based solar observation mission, Aditya L1, weighing 1,475 kg, was launched aboard the PSLV rocket from the Satish Dhawan Space Centre in Sriharikota at 11.50 am today.

The launch was met with jubilant cheers from scientists gathered at the Mission Control Room in Sriharikota. The mission is reported to have a budget of Rs. 420 crore. The Indian Space Research Organisation's (ISRO) inaugural solar probe aims to study solar winds, which can cause disturbances on Earth, commonly observed as auroras.

This solar mission follows India's achievement last month, surpassing Russia to become the first country to land on the moon's south pole. While Russia possessed a more powerful rocket, India's Chandrayaan-3 displayed remarkable endurance, executing a flawless landing.

The Aditya-L1 spacecraft is designed to cover approximately 1.5 million km (930,000 miles) over four months to reach a unique parking spot in space where objects tend to remain stable due to balancing gravitational forces, thus reducing fuel consumption for the spacecraft.

Initially, the spacecraft will be placed in a low Earth orbit, which will then be made elliptical to propel Aditya L1 toward Lagrange point L1 using onboard propulsion. As the spacecraft journeys towards L1, it will exit Earth's gravitational Sphere of Influence (SOI), and if all goes as planned, it will be positioned in a halo orbit around Lagrange point 1 (L1) of the Sun-Earth system within 125 days.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

While reading widens our imagination, our vocabulary will expand and our literary skills will flourish. We will acquire felicity with words and the power of self-expression. Effective speech and writing are the by-products of wide reading. Our schools and homes have to inculcate the habit of reading in children. Parents and teachers have to be role models. Unless we nurture the reading habit in children, there is no hope for reading to get its due place. Every school should have a library. Newspaper reading also has to be cultivated in children. Good habits developed in childhood will stay with them for life. Reading habits will certainly stand them in good stead.

The human mind's capacity to continue growing and evolving in response to life's experiences is called neuroplasticity. It is the ability of the brain to adapt itself to change by creating new neurons and building new networks. We need to take this seriously in the context of reading.

Historically, scientists believed that the brain stopped growing after childhood and adolescence. But recent research has established that the brain is able to grow and change throughout our lifespan, refining and renovating its architecture, using the different regions of the brain in an evolutionary cycle and ever expanding and renewing itself in a continuous process. This is nothing short of a miracle. Those who don't experience the joy of reading are blissfully unaware of the sheer delight derived from it.

If we read, our brain will continue to function with greater efficiency. Obviously, if we do not read, our brains will go into a state of stagnation and atrophy. Thus, reading must be our constant, unfailing companion. Sir Francis Bacon said succinctly all we need to know about reading. "Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man." There is an unmistakable complementarity among them. — Mathew C. Ninan in Deccan Herald

Company creates world's blackest gel pen

Tokyo: Japan's Mitsubishi Uni-ball ONE series black gel pen has been recognized as the world's blackest gel pen by Guinness World Records.

When it comes to the world's blackest paint, there is no competing with Vanta Black, but pen gel is a whole other matter. Mitsubishi Pencil Co.Ltd. now holds the record for the blackest gel pen, thanks to an innovative type of pigment-containing particles that seal the paint inside. When writing on paper, it can reduce the penetration of the gel into paper fibers, making the color look more saturated than other gel pens.

The newly developed Uni-ball One gel pen changes the ratio of solid to liquid components in the gel, making it possible for the liquid component to quickly permeate the paper surface while leaving the solid coloring material on the paper surface. So even though the ink remains quick-drying, the solid components on the surface give the writing a more saturated look.

Man spends 28 years of his life legally dead

Rio: A 71-year-old man from Brazil's Tocantins region was pronounced dead in 1995, based on the testimony of his ex-wife and two witnesses. He spent the next 28 years of his life legally dead...

On Aug. 16, Manoel Marciano da Silva finally had his death certificate annulled after a two-year-long Court battle. To the Brazilian authorities, he had been dead and buried in a public cemetery for 28 years, but this became a problem for the man himself about two years ago, when he couldn't collect his pension and couldn't get access to free healthcare. That's when he started investigating his 'death' and learned that it was his ex-wife and two witnesses who had declared him dead to authorities.

Suggestion to prevent misuse of mobile phones on roads

Sir,

Looking at the accidents that are happening due to over-use/misuse of the mobile phone on the roads, I feel that the mobile companies/network providers should come up with softwares wherein the phone should stop working while in motion and should connect only when a person is in a static position or stationary position.

If the working of the network while in motion is very necessary like for example, the people who keep working during travelling from one place to other etc., then the subscriber should pay a certain (higher) amount and get the subscription of the network connection accordingly.

This might look a silly idea but might help many people from falling victims because of the mistake of others' irresponsible usage of mobile phones on road.

Farmers take out torchlight rally, oppose Cauvery water to TN

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (SBD&BS)- Federation of State Farmers Associations and State Sugarcane Growers Association jointly took out a torchlight rally in protest against the release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu (TN), last evening.

The protesters, led by President of State Sugarcane Growers Association Kurubur Shanthakumar, took out the rally from Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple premises at Mysore Palace North Gate to Doddagadiyara Circle, before returning to the temple premises. The farmers raised slogans against the State Government, demanding not to release water to Tamil Nadu at the cost of farmers of the State.

Earlier, tense moments were witnessed for a while, as the farmers made a bid to break through the barricades to proceed towards K.R. Circle. Police had erected barricades as the protests at K.R. Circle are banned. When the farmers resisted, Devaraja Police convinced and cleared them to make way for the traffic.

President of State Sugarcane Growers Association Kurubur Shanthakumar, who addressed the protesters, came down heavily on the State Government and the Water Resources Minister, saying that the farmers are meted out injustice in all the issues including Cauvery and Bhima River rows.

"Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar, who also holds Water Resources portfolio, has forgotten the promise made prior to elections. A dramatic padayatra was taken out demanding the implementation of Mekedatu project, besides making tall claims to implement the project soon after ascending power. Leave aside implementing the project, there was neither any budgetary allocation for the project," Kurubur Shanthakumar said.

He further alleged that the funds earmarked for agriculture sector is being diverted to mobilise resources to meet the requirements of five pre-poll guarantees announced by the Government. Though the Supreme Court has directed to use available water for drinking purpose, the Government has failed to devise any plan.

Farmer leaders Attahalli Devaraj, Baradanapura Nagaraj, Bhagyaraj, Prasad Nayak, Veeranagowda Patil, G.V. Lakshmidevi, Chetan, Ramesh Hoogar, Lakshman and other leaders took part in the protest.

Mysuru-Hunsur road blocked

Demanding that the release of Cauvery water from Karnataka to Tamil Nadu must be stopped, Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS), Mysuru Taluk Unit, staged a road block near Yelwal on Mysuru-Hunsur Road in the city yesterday.

The farmers, who raised slogans against both the State and Central Governments, alleged that the State has failed to convince the Court about the present status of reservoirs in the State. The Officers are not forthcoming with adequate information. Despite being aware of the situation in Karnataka, the Centre is practicing a step-motherly attitude, they said.

The farmers also submitted a memorandum addressed to the Chief Minister, at the Office of Deputy Tahsildar at Yelwal Nada Kacheri.

In the memorandum, the farmers have urged the CM to exert pressure on the Central Government to draw a distress formula, which presently lacks clear guidelines. Besides, the legal battle should be continued with a firm decision not to release water to Tamil Nadu.

Raitha Sangha leader P. Marankaiah, President of KRRS Mysuru Taluk Unit Anandur Prabhakar, Honorary President Naganahalli Vijayendra, General Secretary Mandakalli Mahesh, Organising Secretary A. Raghavendra, Netravathi and other leaders took part in the protest.

'Mayor should wage legal battle against MCC Commissioner'

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (GA&BS)- Former Mayor B.L. Bhyrappa has advised incumbent Mayor of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Shivakumar to wage a legal battle against the Commissioner of MCC for cancelling the Council Meeting called on Aug. 31, 2023, infringing upon the rights solely vested with him (Mayor).

B.L. Bhyrappa, ex-Mayor

Bhyrappa addressed media persons at Pathrakartara Bhavan in city yesterday and said: "It is condemnable that the General Council Meeting was called off by the Commissioner. As per rules, it is only the Mayor who holds the prerogative to either postpone or cancel the meeting, which is also clearly mentioned in Karnataka Municipal Corporations (KMC) Act 1976. Despite this, Commissioner has abused his power and cancelled the meeting in violation of rules. He has also insulted Mayor's chair by doing so, which shows his arrogance."

Bhyrappa alleged that "By breaching the limits of his power, the Commissioner has curtailed the ambit of power of even Mayor and Corporators, which is really unbearable. Moreover, without the notice of Mayor, the Officers including Commissioner have gone out of jurisdiction, which doesn't augur well."

In the absence of Commissioner, the Council Secretary can conduct the Council Meeting. But all cadre of Officers had been to Bengaluru. It is also incorrect on the part of the Minister to summon Officers to Bengaluru, when Council Meeting is convened. Be it any Government, it is a clear violation of law. Mayor should write to the Government against the Council Secretary and the Commissioner and also wage a legal battle, demanded former Mayor Bhyrappa.

The tenure of incumbent Mayor ends on Sept. 5. Hence, the sitting Mayor had announced that the discussion over the proposal of Greater Mysuru and several other key matters were on the agenda of the Council Meeting, that was called off that day. However, the decision over Greater Mysuru cannot be made in a hasty manner, as a detailed study should be conducted followed by deliberations and discussions, which still need time, said former Mayor Bhyrappa.

Maintenance to mother: Mysuru AC Court implements HC order

Despite High Court ruling, sons evaded paying Rs. 5,000 a month; Assistant Commissioner K.R. Rakshith intervenes

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru Assistant Commissioner's (AC) Court has become a beacon of hope for senior citizens who are not being cared for by their children. The Court effectively implemented the Karnataka High Court's (HC) order, which directed two sons to pay their aged mother Rs. 5,000 as monthly maintenance.

Following the HC's directive, Assistant Commissioner (AC) K.R. Rakshith summoned the family to his Court and instructed the sons to provide the Court-mandated monthly maintenance of Rs. 5,000 to their mother.

On July 12, 2023, the HC dismissed a petition filed by the siblings, Gopal and Mahesh, from Mysuru, challenging the maintenance order to pay Rs. 10,000 per month to their aged mother.

The HC upheld the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) order and emphasised the significance of honouring the legal, religious, and cultural obligations of sons to care for their ageing parents.

The dispute revolved around Venkatamma, the wife of the late Yellaiah, residing in Kurimandi Circle, Kesare, N.R. Mohalla, and her sons, Gopal and Mahesh.

The disagreement began in 2019 when the AC of Mysuru, H.N. Shivegowda, ordered Gopal and Mahesh to pay Rs. 5,000 each as monthly maintenance to their mother, Venkatamma.

Dissatisfied with this decision, the brothers appealed to the DC at the time, Abhiram G. Sankar, who subsequently increased the maintenance amount to Rs. 10,000 each. Unhappy with this outcome, Gopal and Mahesh further contested the order in the High Court.

Justice Krishna S. Dixit of the High Court dismissed the petition, upholding the DC's decision, and refuting all arguments raised by the brothers, asking them to pay Rs. 5,000 a month. The Court also imposed a cost of Rs. 5,000 on the brothers for filing the petition.

In its ruling, the HC stressed that a son's obligation to care for dependent parents is as vital as supporting a dependent spouse. The Court rejected the brothers' claim of insufficient means to provide financial support, stating that their argument was insufficient grounds for neglecting the responsibility of caring for their ageing and ailing mother.

The Court underscored the legal, religious and customary duty of sons to care for their parents, especially their aged mother. Justice Krishna Dixit remarked, "To neglect parents, particularly in their old age when they become weak and dependent, causing them anguish, is a heinous act for which there is no atonement available."

Despite the HC's order, the sons adamantly refused to support their mother, prompting her to approach the Assistant Commissioner's Court once more.

Assistant Commissioner Rakshith issued an arrest warrant on Aug. 8 for Gopal and Mahesh, instructing them to appear before the AC's Court. As the brothers evaded attending the AC Court, the Narasimharaja Police Inspector was directed on Aug. 19 to produce them before the AC Court for not complying with the High Court order.

Gopal and Mahesh were presented before the AC Court on Sept. 1 after a second arrest warrant was issued on Aug. 23.

In the presence of Venkatamma, Gopal and Mahesh, Rakshith ordered them to pay Rs. 5,000 a month as per the High Court's directive.

'Operate flights from Mysuru to Shivamogga, Mangaluru'

Pratap Simha Sudhakar Shetty

Mysuru, Sept. 2- With Air connectivity between Bengaluru and Shivamogga launched on Thursday, former Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce & Industry (FKCCI) President S. Sudhakar Shetty has appealed Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha to take measures for operating flights from Mysuru to Shivamogga and Mangaluru.

In a letter written to the MP on Thursday, Shetty said that Mysuru is an Industrial hub and many people from Malnad and coastal region are visiting the city everyday. Pointing out that the daily flights between Mysuru and Mangaluru has been halted recently, he said that it has badly affected travellers and tourists from Uttara Kannada, Udupi, Dakshina Kannada and Chikkamagalur. Several people from DK and Shivamogga have settled in Mysuru and the stoppage of the flight has affected them, he said and urged the MP to resume Mysuru-Mangaluru flights.

Delay in mass marriage ceremony at MM Hills

Seven couples pool in own money to tie knot at Salur Mutt

Chamarajanagar, Sept. 2 (BS)- Seven couples, frustrated by the repeated postponements of a mass marriage ceremony organised initially at the Male Mahadeshwaraswamy Temple in the Male Mahadeshwara (MM) Hills in Chamarajanagar, have taken matters into their own hands and tied the knot at their own expense.

Initially, the Sri Male Mahadeshwaraswamy Temple Development Authority had scheduled the mass marriage ceremony for Aug. 23. However, it was subsequently postponed to August 28 and then delayed again. This continuous rescheduling disappointed the prospective brides and grooms who had eagerly registered to get married at the sacred abode of Lord Mahadeshwara. In response, seven couples decided to exchange their vows at Salur Mutt in the hills.

Marriage on the sacred grounds of Lord Mahadeshwara is considered highly auspicious. A total of 67 couples from various parts of the State, including the district, had originally registered their names for the mass marriage.

Unfortunately, due to the repeated postponements, seven economically disadvantaged couples decided to take matters into their own hands and finance their own weddings.

These seven couples are Jagadish from Chamarajanagar and Kavyashree from Nanjangud, Mahesh Kumar from P.G. Palya and Ramya from Horalavadi in Mysuru district, Udaykumar and Sneha from Talawadi, Dinesh from T. Bamboo crafts thrive during Gowri-Ganesha festival

Married Hindu women exchange 'bagina' in bamboo-made soops laced with turmeric

By M.B. Pavan Murthy

Mysuru, Sept. 2- The verse, 'Bidiru Nanarigalladavalu..." (Bamboo, to whom doesn't I belong...) from Saint Shishunala Sharif's song poignantly highlights the profound significance of bamboo in our lives, a significance that resonates even more prominently during the Gowri-Ganesha festival.

While plastic has become a ubiquitous alternative for many products, bamboo-made 'mora' or soop (containers used for winnowing rice and grains) continue to be in high demand.

With the upcoming Gowri-Ganesha festival on Sept. 18, it has become a tradition for women to seek out artisans skilled in crafting bamboo soop. These soops are traditionally offered, after being adorned with turmeric, to married women as part of the 'bagina' ritual, a practice that endures during the festival.

However, bamboo craftsmanship is not the purview of all. It remains a cherished tradition passed down through generations within the Medar community, who still rely on their artisanal skills for their livelihood. Like other sought-after festival items, bamboo artisans, especially those crafting soops, become highly sought-after during this festive season.

These skilled artisans, deeply engrossed in weaving bamboo strips, can be found beneath the grand banyan tree near the 101 Ganapathi Temple Circle at Agrahara and along the sidewalks of New Sayyaji Rao Road in Tilak Nagar.

Weavers engaged in bamboo works at Bamboo Bazaar, along the sidewalks of New Sayyaji Rao Road in Tilak Nagar.

BAMBOO BAZAAR HUB

This area is famously known as the 'Bamboo Bazaar,' where they create various bamboo products, including baskets of different sizes for carrying fruits and food, as well as protective covers for backyard chickens to shield them from predatory birds. Hand fans and ladders are also among the products they fashion.

Throughout the year, a handful of three to four artisans diligently craft bamboo products near the 101 Ganapathi temple in Agrahara. However, their numbers swell to approximately 25 a few days before the festival, with artisans from Nanjangud joining in to meet the heightened demand. Once the festival concludes, they return to Nanjangud to continue their craft in the Temple Town.

Parvathi, one of the artisans near the 101 Ganapathi Temple, said, "To meet the demand during Gowri-Ganesha fest, we weave soops in both large and small sizes. Larger soops are sold at prices ranging from Rs. 130 to Rs. 140 per pair and smaller ones at Rs. 100 per pair. On the festival eve, the larger soops can fetch as much as Rs. 150 per pair or more. Gowri 'Chibbalu' alone sells for Rs. 150 per piece. However, heavy rainfall can disrupt the supply of raw bamboo, sourced from Kodagu. Bamboo poles are brought near RMC, from where we purchase according to needs. A 15-foot-tall bamboo pole costs Rs. 500."

Parvathi, originally from Nanjangud, who has made Mysuru her home and works throughout the year, added, "Some artisans camp here 15 days before the Gowri-Ganesha festival. With high-quality bamboo poles, we can craft up to 30 large-sized soops. With still a fortnight left for the festival, business is yet to pick up."

COMMUNITY LOSING INTEREST

However, Parvathi lamented the reluctance of young members of the Medar community to carry on the traditional craft. She said, "Not many have taken up the art of crafting bamboo products, even though most community members are concentrated in Nanjangud, Jayanagar, Nanjumalige, and Bamboo Bazaar in Mysuru city."

Another bamboo artisan, Basavanna, remarked, "While most customers are from the city, the demand for bamboo products could surge if authorities address the plastic menace. There's a belief among people that plastic soops shouldn't be used for the 'bagina' ritual, which explains the enduring demand for bamboo-made soops."

Lakshmi, who is diligently crafting bamboo products in Tilak Nagar, stated, "I, along with a few other artisans from Rajarajeshwari Colony, Medar Block, and Bamboo Bazaar, have been crafting bamboo products throughout the year. As the festival approaches, traders at Devaraja Market purchase bamboo soops in bulk from us. Most residents of our Colony still depend on traditional craftsmanship to make a living."

Supreme Court to hear Cauvery water-sharing dispute on Sept. 6

New Delhi, Sept. 2 (Agencies)- The Supreme Court has posted for Sept. 6 matter relating to the Cauvery water-sharing dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu.

A Bench of Justices B.R. Gavai and Prashant Kumar Mishra was informed yesterday that in pursuance to its Aug. 25 direction, the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) has submitted its report relating to the compliance of the Authority's Aug. 11 direction by Karnataka to release water so that 10,000 cusecs of water is realised at Biligundlu, Tamil Nadu.

CWMA on Thursday filed an affidavit before the Supreme Court stating that a meeting was held and after that, Karnataka fulfilled the directions of CWMA by releasing a total of 1,49,898 cusecs of water at Biligundlu from Aug. 12 to Aug. 26. Earlier, the Supreme Court had said that it doesn't possess any expertise on this issue and sought a report from the CWMA on the quantum of release made by Karnataka.

It had asked CWMA, which was meeting on Aug. 28, to decide the release of water for the next fortnight in the Cauvery water-sharing dispute between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu.

Tamil Nadu Government had approached the Top Court seeking direction to Karnataka to release 24,000 cusecs of water daily per day from the reservoirs in Karnataka. Karnataka Government had also filed an affidavit last week opposing Tamil Nadu's application saying that application is based on an assumption that this year is the normal rain water year.

The Government said that Tamil Nadu's application that Karnataka to ensure the release of 36.76 TMC (thousand million cubic feet) stipulated for September 2023 has no legal basis since the said quantity is stipulated in a normal water year and this water year being a distressed water year so far, it is not applicable.

Dasara elephants relax at Aranya Bhavan

All nine Dasara elephants, transported in trucks from Veeranahosahalli in Hunsur last evening, have arrived at Aranya Bhavan in Mysuru, accompanied by their mahouts and kavadis as part of the Gajapayana tradition. They were bathed this morning and provided with nourishing meals prepared on-site, alongside fresh green grass and leaves. The majestic elephants, including Abhimanyu, the Golden Howdah elephant, are scheduled to embark on their procession to the Mysore Palace on Sept. 5, during the auspicious Abhijin Lagna between 12.01 pm and 12.51 pm. Initially planned for Sept. 4, their arrival at the Palace was postponed by a day in accordance with the astrological calendar and constellations traditionally followed by the Mysore Palace. Upon reaching the Palace, their rigorous training for the Vijayadashami procession will commence, accompanied by a sumptuous diet.

The L1 point is situated approximately 1.5 million km from Earth, merely 1 percent of the 150 million km distance between the two. The distance to be travelled by Aditya L1 is four times greater than that covered by Chandrayaan-3, which landed on the Moon on Aug. 23 and has been delivering significant findings.

Reaching the L1 point will provide India with a significant advantage for continuous observation of solar activities. All measurements will be conducted from Lagrange point L1, while L5 serves as an excellent vantage point for studying Earth-directed CME (Coronal Mass Ejections) pre-flare and flare activities, and their characteristics, dynamics of space weather, study of the propagation of particles, fields in the interplanetary medium, etc., as noted by scientists.

Out of the seven payloads, all of which have been indigenously developed by ISRO and other organisations, four will directly observe and study the Sun, while the remaining three will conduct in-situ studies of particles and fields around the L1 point.

A satellite placed in the halo orbit around L1 point has the major advantage of continuously viewing the Sun without any occultation/eclipse. This will provide a greater advantage of observing the solar activities continuously.

Dasara fest: Govt. appealed to form Consultative Committee of Experts

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (MTY&DM)- The city-based Inidani Mannamakkala Honnapadagala Balaga has appealed the Government to constitute a 'Consultative Committee of Experts' to hold Dasara celebrations in a more purposeful and organised manner.

Addressing a press meet here recently, Balaga Hon. President Dr. K. Rameshwarappa stressed on the need for forming a consultative committee of experienced persons and experts in order to celebrate Dasara festival in keeping with its rich tradition, glory and practices.

Maintaining that some confusion has been surfacing during Dasara every year, Rameshwarappa said this has impeded the grand celebration of Dasara. In this backdrop it is necessary to constitute a panel of Dasara experts for giving timely inputs and information to the Government for a better organisation of Dasara.

Observing that the panel should comprise experts in the field of Hotel Industry, Media representatives, Industrialists and businessmen, Travels Association, Cab Drivers Association, Railway officials, Artists, Artisans etc., he said that Dasara activities should be guided by the suggestions of the Committee. Then only Dasara can be celebrated in all originality, he opined. The Government should also form a Dasara Authority, he added.

Mysuru Hotel Owners Association President C. Narayanagowda, who also spoke, said that more number of people are expected to take part in Dasara due to 'Shakti' scheme that allows free travel for women in buses. As such the Mysuru District Administration should take measures for providing accommodation in educational Institutions and Kalyana Mantaps for those coming from far away places, he said adding that Dasara should be held in all its grandeur.

C.M. Narasimhamurthy, Srinivas, Raghunath, Pandit Ganesh Bhat and others were present at the press meet.

Lok Sabha delimitation based on population will lead to imbalance

Experts debate at two-day conference on Delimitation: Inter-State asymmetry and its implications

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (PM&DM)- "Delimitation of Lok Sabha Constituencies based on population will lead to a decrease in the number of seats in South India, while the count will increase in Northern States. This imbalance will result in unfair treatment towards the Southern States, demanding a comprehensive re-evaluation of the delimitation criteria," said Dr. Jayakumar, the Congress Lok Sabha MP representing Tiruvallur in Tamil Nadu.

Dr. Jayakumar

He shared his views on the concluding day of the two-day National Conference titled 'Delimitation: Inter-State asymmetry and its implications.' This event was collaboratively organised by Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research and Extension Centre at the University of Mysore and the Indian Polit Forum, held at the Vishwajnani Auditorium in Manasagangothri.

Dr. Jayakumar emphasised that delimitation of Lok Sabha and Vidhan Sabha Constituencies must be carried out based on the population census conducted every ten years. He pointed out that despite requirement, the delimitation of LS Constituencies has been deferred for various reasons. However, he cautioned against delimiting constituencies solely based on population, as it could perpetuate bias between Northern and Southern States.

He noted that while the population of Southern States has remained relatively stable, the Northern States have witnessed a significant rise of 52 percent. While clarifying that his stance is a personal viewpoint and not representative of his party, the Tiruvallur MP underscored the need for a well-defined mechanism for constituency delimitation.

Sandeep Shastri, Academic Director of NITTE Education Trust and a Political Analyst, stressed that the delimitation process should ensure that the number of Lok Sabha seats in Southern States doesn't diminish.

He expressed concern that collectively, States like Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Kerala and Telangana could lose up to 26 Lok Sabha seats, while Northern States would experience an increase due to population growth. Shastri highlighted the importance of maintaining balance between Northern and Southern States for the nation's benefit, warning about potential political consequences if population-based delimitation were to occur.

K. Jayaprakash Hegde, Chairman of the Karnataka Backward Classes Commission, addressed the process, stating that once the Delimitation Commission finalises its guidelines, it becomes difficult to challenge. He advocated for delimitation to be undertaken with the trust and consent of the people, and stressed that the Government should acknowledge the greater economic contribution of Southern States compared to Northern States.

Other attendees included Maj. Gen. (Retd.) S.G. Vombatkere from the Indian Polit Forum, retired professor Prof. Y. Rafiq Ahmed, Dr. S. Narendrakumar from Dr. Ambedkar Centre, faculty members Prof. J. Somashekar and Prof. R. Indira from Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Chair.

States preoccupied with politics, agendas lacking in job creation

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (CN&DM)- Retired Professor Dr. D. Narayan from Kerala highlighted the significant contributions made by migrants to the industrial growth of Bengaluru.

He expressed these thoughts on the first day of the two-day National Conference titled 'Delimitation: Inter-State asymmetry and its implications' co-organised recently by Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research and Extension Centre at the University of Mysore and the Indian Political Forum, at Vishwajnani Auditorium in Manasagangothri.

Dr. Narayan noted the lack of emphasis by States on job creation and lamented that political parties often appear preoccupied with their own activities and agendas, leaving little time for concentrating on employment and wealth generation.

He underscored the necessity for robust coordination and cooperation among neighbouring States, advocating for constructive dialogues in a friendly atmosphere to facilitate comprehensive development.

Highlighting the role of migrants in Bengaluru's current status, Dr. Narayan urged political parties to recognise this reality. He pointed out that the State's economy experienced a setback when migrants initially departed for their hometowns. However, economic recovery was observed upon their return to Bengaluru.

He stressed the importance of unity, emphasising that the community should stand together as one.

Addressing the Goods and Services Tax (GST), Dr. Narayan expressed concern over the existing unequal distribution between the Centre and the States. He criticised the current 60:40 ratio in which GST is shared and pointed out several flaws in the GST system that have seemingly gone unnoticed by authorities.

Other attendees included Prof. V.K. Nataraj, former Director, Madras Institute of Development Studies, Chennai and Prof. R.M. Chintamani, President of Sakaala Spandana Mysuru.

HC disqualifies Prajwal Revanna as Hassan MP for poll violations

Asks Election Commission to take action against MLA H.D. Revanna and MLC Suraj Revanna

Bengaluru, Sept. 2 (Agencies)- The High Court of Karnataka yesterday declared the election of JD(S) MP from Hassan, Prajwal Revanna, as null and void. This decision came as a result of two petitions filed by G. Devarajegowda, a voter from the Constituency and A. Manju, who was the defeated candidate from the BJP in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls.

Prajwal

Additionally, Justice K. Natarajan directed the Election Commission of India to take action against Prajwal for election malpractice according to the Conduct of Election Process Rules.

Prajwal Revanna, the grandson of JD(S) patriarch and former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda, was the only candidate from his party to win the Lok Sabha elections in Karnataka in 2019. Notably, Manju, who initially contested against Prajwal on a BJP ticket and lost, later joined JD(S) and is currently an MLA. The petitions alleged that Prajwal engaged in election malpractice and failed to declare his assets to the Election Commission.

Justice Natarajan, in his ruling, declared Prajwal's election as null and void, stating, "Both the election petitions filed by the petitioners are allowed in part. The election of returned candidate, Respondent No 1, namely Prajwal Revanna alias R. Prajwal, Member of the Parliament, Constituency 16, Hassan (General), having been declared as the returned candidate dated 23.5.2019 is hereby declared as null and void."

However, the HC rejected the petitioners' request to declare Manju as the winning candidate, citing his involvement in corrupt practices. The HC stated, "The prayer of the petitioners in both the cases to declare Manju as returned candidate is rejected in view of the findings that he himself (is) involved in corrupt practices."

The HC also directed the Election Commission to take action against Prajwal's father H.D. Revanna (MLA and former Minister) and brother Suraj Revanna (MLC) for election malpractice. The HC stated, "H.D. Revanna and Suraj Revanna are named in the complaint under the Representation of People's Act for having committed corrupt practice at the time of the election, and also Manju, who is also involved in corrupt practice. Election Commission to issue notice and comply with the Conduct of Election Process Rules."

The petitions outlined numerous instances of malpractice and non-disclosure of assets by Prajwal. It was alleged that Prajwal undervalued Channambika Convention Hall, claiming it was worth only Rs. 14 lakh, while its actual value was at least Rs. 5 crore.

The Court found Prajwal guilty of various election-related corrupt practices under the Representation of People's Act, 1951. He provided false information about the market value of some of his properties, concealed his actual bank account balance, and failed to disclose a Rs. 50 lakh loan credited to his account. Moreover, he did not provide comprehensive details of his assets, liabilities, investments, and bank balances, and he failed to submit income tax returns for relevant periods.

H.D. Revanna was found to have misused funds allocated to Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited for other development works to influence voters in favour of his son. Furthermore, Rs. 1.2 lakh in cash was seized from Dr. Suraj, implying it was intended for election distribution. The Court dismissed Prajwal's claim that the cash was for purchasing cattle feed and groceries.

The Court also revealed that Prajwal committed corrupt practices through his father and family members by facilitating votes by proxy voters, bringing non-voters to polling stations with the help of polling officials, and misusing his father's position. The Court noted that Prajwal exceeded the Election Commission's expenditure limit of Rs. 70 lakh, spending over Rs. 1 crore while declaring only Rs. 63 lakh in expenditures.

I don't know about it (Court order), I have got to know about it from you (media). Everyone will have to bow down to the law. I have not seen the judgement copy. I will know as to why it was done and will react. Will see the Court order and will appeal in the Supreme Court where justice will prevail."

— H.D. Revanna, MLA and former Minister

They have made several allegations against me. Will meet grandfather and family members to decide on the future course of action. All the documents and records have been submitted to the Election Commission and the Court. I am ready to wage a legal battle."

—Prajwal Revanna, disqualified MP

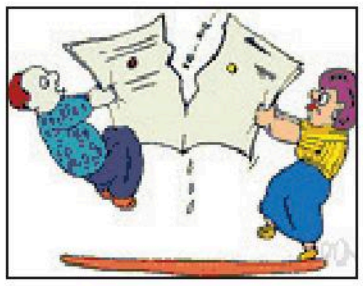
WORD OF THE DAY

Asunder



Pronunciation: uh-SUN-der.
Meaning: Asunder is most often used as an adverb — often with a verb such as tear or pull — to mean "apart" or "into pieces." It is more rarely used as an adjective meaning "apart from each other," as in "he stood with his legs wide asunder."
Origin: Asunder comes from the verb sunder, which means "to break apart" or "to become parted, disunited, or severed." Both words come from the Old English word sundor, meaning "apart." The adverbial "into parts" sense of asunder is often used in the phrase "tear asunder," which can be used both literally (as in "fabric torn asunder") and, more often, figuratively (as in "a community torn asunder by the dispute"). The adjectival "apart from each other" sense can be found in the phrase "poles asunder," used to describe two things that are as vastly far apart as the poles of the Earth.
Example: "House of Dragon chronicles the events leading up to and during the Dance of the Dragons, the name given by the poets of Westeros to a gruesome civil war that tore House Targaryen asunder." — Nick Romano

THE ODD WORD

Abroach

In a condition to allow liquor to run out.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A red rag to a bull

Meaning: To wave a red rag to a bull is to deliberately provoke it. More generally, the expression denotes any deliberate action intended to bring about an adverse reaction.
Origin: In the 17th century, to wave a red rag at someone was merely to chatter with them - 'red rag' was then a slang term for the tongue. This usage is cited in print as early as 1605 and is nicely illustrated in Francis Grose's definition in the Classical Dictionary of the Vulgar Tongue, 1785:.... "Shut your potatoe trap, and give your redrag a holiday." The waving of a cloth rag at an animal to distract it may have been a common practice for centuries, but it wasn't until the 1700s that it was documented in print. The animal in question wasn't, as we might suppose, a bull. The first creature known to be susceptible to rag-waving was that most dim-witted of birds, the pheasant. This was cited in Trenchard and Gordon's religious essays, Cato's Letters, 1724: Foxes are trapann'd [trapped] by Traces, Pheasants by a red Rag, and other Birds by a Whistle; and the same is true of Mankind.

QUOTE BOX

I had everything working my way, strong as a bull. And still I ignored the rules of the game of life. —Lawrence Taylor

Annual Kodava Meet to begin today in San Francisco Bay Area

California, Sept. 2 (BCT)- The Annual Kodava Convention in North America is scheduled to take place on Sept. 2 and 3, 2023, in the San Francisco Bay Area, famously known as Silicon Valley. The convention will culminate on Sept. 3, coinciding with the Kodava community's Kailpoldh festival. The inaugural day's events will start at 5 pm.

This convention is a tradition spanning approximately 15 years. This time, over 500 Kodavas and their families from across the United States have registered to participate in the event, which is jointly organised by around 40 Kodava families.

According to the organisers, the two-day event will see the participation of Kodava guests from around the world. They have received well-wishes from notable Kodavas, including individuals from the military, sports, and the entertainment industry.

Registration had to be closed due to limited seating capacity. Local families will come together to showcase the cultural events that reflect the deep-rooted Kodava heritage and their unique talents, as stated by the organisers.

The programme will feature a blend of traditional and cultural events, including Baalo Paat performances, Kailpodh Ayudha Puja, Kodava cultural dances, Kodava Koota updates, an entrepreneurial mixer, a Kodava cultural skit, and the traditional Bolakaat.

This convention serves as a gathering for Kodava brethren from across North America, providing an opportunity to meet, learn and celebrate the rich Kodava culture. This year's convention is aptly named 'namme-by-the-bay' and promises to offer attendees a unique opportunity to delve deeper into the world of Kodava tradition, unique attire, art, cuisine, culture and the deities.
